

"Being decisive and focused in your office or home environment is essential for work/life balance and prosperity."

Are you looking for more work/life balance?
Would you like to fuel your prosperity?

Pat Heydlauff can take you there.

Join Pat as she engages, informs and inspires audiences. As a consultant with small business owners, entrepreneurs, organizations and individuals, Pat focuses on reducing stress, improving work/life balance and increasing prosperity.

Allow Pat's 25 years of experience and research—her Signature mix of traditional workforce strategies and eastern environmental philosophies to turn your home or work into a healthy, prosperous environment.

Why demand any less for your home or business than the expertise and strategies Pat has to offer?

Pat solves the main problems that most people face. Whether it is personal or business —she understands—one will affect the other...

Pat teaches the powerful art of Energy by Design with a focus on the three most prevalent issues...

- Reducing stress
- Increasing prosperity
- Improving work/life balance

This is where Feng Shui comes in... Why Feng Shui? Because it is an ancient Chinese philosophy based on a foundation of balance and a positive flow of energy throughout your life, home and business.

THE RESULT: Highly successful businesses and calmer anxiety-free lives!

Pat has immersed herself in this subject as she does in all of what she shares... Let Pat bring your home or company into balance with Flow of work/life harmony and prosperity.

Select from Pat's high content presentations:

All presentations can be customized for your specific needs of topic and program length.

From Clutter and Stress to Business Success

Learn how to eliminate clutter and stress; create a workplace or home environment that supports focus and efficiency; shift your personal energy to improve self-motivation, enthusiasm and creativity; increase efficiency effectiveness and profitability/prosperity; improve client, employee and personal prosperity; and discover balance in your work/home life.

Pat Heydlauff

Taking the Mystery Out of Feng Shui

Feng Shui utilizes positive energy to revitalize the soul, un-clutter the home, and make people more productive (and fulfilled) in the workplace and at home. You can take control of your life – by realizing that you can control the positive and negative energy in your environment.

You are the Real Estate Competitive Edge

Learn to apply the tried and true Feng Shui principles to enhance the effectiveness and efficiency of your workplace environment and the homes you want to sell.

How to Avoid the “Overs” – Over Stressing, Over Committing, Over Spending

Women often try to be super-heroes but soon realize it doesn't work in real-life. Learn how to change the negative energy surrounding you into positive, supportive energy.

Running a Successful Board: Aligning Purpose, Principles and Positive Energy

Learn how the “flow of focus” can help you create a unified board of directors driven by purpose and principles that will lead you and your organization through both good times and challenging times.

Empower Your Support Staff to Create a Positive Working Environment

Everything from time management to personal renewal depends on how well leadership is able to manage the flow of focus of others and themselves. The workforce environment either enhances their focus and that productivity or is an obstacle.

Pat is a veteran of the non-profit industry and a pioneer flow of work/life balance and prosperity environment expert. But as an association CEO, turning around an ailing non-profit taught Pat one valuable lesson. Stress and chaos can destroy the work-life balance and prosperity both individually and organizationally unless it is focused on united goals.

That life-event thrust her creative/right brain into action. She then realized that she needed balance in her life more than ever. She found herself immensely attracted to the philosophies and principles of hope, balance and success held by an ancient Chinese civilization known as Feng Shui. It was these basic principles and the natural flow of energy that continued to encourage her to study more and look deeper into why those who used the principles were so successful without paying the price of stress, anxiety and loss of health.

What makes Pat qualified in this arena?

She is certified in Organization Management from the Institute for Organization Management. She is certified in Neuro Linguistic Programming and Time Line Therapy. Pat uses the Disney Approach to Creative Leadership and is an expert in the use of Feng Shui principles and Flow of Focus Creativity.

Published in:

1-772- 205-2285
energydesign@patheydlauff.com
Follow Pat Heydlauff

